

Bringing the best science to contraceptive care.

Health Education Intern, Beyond the Pill Program

Beyond the Pill has an opening for a student (undergraduate or master's level) intern to assist with the development of contraceptive-focused health education materials and program communications.

Ideal candidates should have a strong interest in reproductive health and contraception, experience searching and reviewing health research and academic literature, and strong communication and writing skills. Experience with graphic design and a good eye for design is a plus.

The opportunity could begin immediately (flexible start date), and could extend through summer. A minimum of 20 hours/week is preferred, flexible hours. Internship is paid through a stipend and located in San Francisco at the UCSF Laurel Heights office (at California St and Presidio Ave).

Interested candidates should email a cover letter and a resume to Jill Eversole at jillian.eversole@ucsf.edu.

Bixby Center
for Global Reproductive Health

University of California
San Francisco